

WITHIN REACH

Math Path

Circle the word for each correct answer. Next cut out and clue the careers at the bottom of the page to match each clue.

1. A pharmacist may tell you to take medicine by a: teaspoon cup pint
2. An architect draws plans for houses using: miles pounds feet
3. A weather reporter tells you the temperature using: pint degrees grams
4. A veterinarian may weigh your pet on a scale using: tons cups pounds
5. An environmental scientist may look at land to find: dormancy behavior erosion
6. A cashier may give you change for a purchase in: dollars quarts cups
7. A football coach may ask his team to practice running: inches yards volume
8. A chemist may heat liquids to create: freezing melting evaporation
9. A geologist would measure a rock using its: week mass teaspoons
10. A physician assistant may measure your height in: meters grams inches
11. A baker would measure flour and sugar using: cups miles inches
12. An airplane pilot would take off on time using: years mass minutes

Adapted from Virginia Career VIEW Virginia Tech